

TROOPS ON DUTY
AT TIFFIN, OHIOTHE CITY IS NOW UNDER MAR-TIAL LAW.

Mob Attacks the Jail in an Attempt to Lynch a Murderer—Two Men Shot Dead by the Sheriff's Posse—Trouble Not Yet Over as the Avengers Are Sullen and Determined.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 28.—The city is in a turmoil over the attempt to lynch Lee J. Martin, Marshal Shultz' slayer, early yesterday morning. It was a veritable uproar all day yesterday, the streets being thronged with men, some filled with morbid curiosity, but many who seemed ready and anxious to renew the rioting. The report was current that a crowd of farmers from Hopewell township was organizing on the outskirts of the town, and an attack was expected from them, but instead the riot was started by those who had been circulating in the vicinity of the jail all evening. At about 1:15 in the morning six men gathered on the lawn about fifty feet from the jail and in a moment about thirty others joined them. Then a sharp whistle was heard, and out of an alley on the opposite side of the street and a little to the west rushed fully 300 more, the leaders carrying a rope and several sledge hammers. The sledges were procured at a stone quarry.

As the mob made the rush toward the jail a squad of policemen stationed on the steps was whisked aside as though they were so many straws. Officer Kiefer, who made a brave and fierce resistance, was struck on the head with a sledge and kicked brutally. He was carried home unconscious, and is hovering between life and death. Officer Fisher was thrown against a brick wall and partially stunned, while Officer Hennessy was tumbled over in the grass by a ruffian who held a murderous-looking club over him and promised death if he did not lie still. The other officers were treated in the same way.

The mob went direct to the side entrance and began an onslaught on the door with their sledges. They made no demand for the keys. Michael Schindute, a powerful teamster, wielded the sledge. The door was broken in splinters in a short time. When the entrance was gained there was a wild rush and the hallway was filled with excited men.

Sheriff Van Nest and three men stood in the opposite end. He vainly appealed to them to disperse. The entrance to the corridor was protected by a heavy sheet-iron door. The lock was broken off with a few blows and there remained only the heavy grating.

Then it was that the guards began to fire. At first they shot over the heads of the rioters, who swore to kill every person inside and to show their purpose begun to fire back at the guards. Henry Mutchler, the first man killed, was the one who carried the rope. He was shot through the left temple and died instantly. Then Chris Matz received a bullet through his breast. He was also picked up dead. The determination of the guards checked the rioters and they retreated, but threatened to get dynamite and blow up the building. In the midst of the attack a young Italian named Vidove rushed at a daughter of the sheriff and threatened to kill her. Another fellow held a revolver close to the heart of Andrew Greer, a one-armed son-in-law of the sheriff, and pulled the trigger, but it missed fire, and the next instant Greer felled his would-be assassin to the floor.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, after the mob had moved farther down the street, Martin was handcuffed, taken through a side door to an alley, where a carriage was in waiting. Police Captain Falkner and Officer Sweeney took him to Sandusky county as fast as the horses could carry them.

Many refused to believe that the prisoner had been taken away, and at 10 o'clock a crowd numbering hundreds started to make another attack. One of the number who knew the murderer was allowed to search the building. He did not find the prisoner, but the crowd refused to believe him. Then company E of the Second regiment of this city was called to guard the building. In the afternoon the crowd again surrounded the place and became so menacing that a committee of six well-known citizens again searched the building from cellar to garret.

In response to the governor's orders company I of the Sixteenth regiment, Ohio national guard, of thirty-five men; company D, Sixteenth, with forty-five men, and companies G and I of Kenton arrived early in the evening, and a strict guard will be kept for several days. Many will threaten to lynch the sheriff and to kill his guards were heard, but it is believed there will be no serious trouble when the excitement has cooled off. Adjt.-Gen. Howe and Col. J. A. Kuest came with the Kenton special. Over 200 guardsmen are here.

MCKINLEY SENDS TROOPS.

Militia Will Guard the Jail and Prevent Disturbances.

Columbus, O., Oct. 28.—At 3 o'clock yesterday morning a telegram was received from Sheriff Van Nest of Seneca county calling for troops to quell the disturbance at Tiffin. The governor was not wholly unprepared for the emergency. He said that he had been informed of the situation, and on passing through Tiffin had had Mr. Gaitree, who was with him, make a quiet investigation. Immediately upon the receipt of the sheriff's telegram Gov. McKinley advised him to call out the company at Tiffin, and also communicated with Adjt.-Gen. Howe, who was at his home in Kenton. Gov. McKinley ordered two companies of the 2d regiment at Kenton, under Col. Kuest, and the companies of the 16th regiment at Clyde and Fostoria, under Col. Bunker, to be held in readiness. Col. Bunker happened to be in this city, and was soon in consultation with the governor. He left early for Tiffin. The latest telegram assured the governor that the worst was over, that the crowd had been convinced and all things pointed to the excitement subsiding. Gov. McKinley announced at 10 o'clock that the prisoner, Martin, had been taken to Sandusky.

VIRGINIA'S HEAVY LOSS.

University of the State Seriously Damaged by Fire.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 28.—The University of Virginia suffered great loss from a fire which occurred yesterday morning. The local fire department was unable to cope with the flames, and assistance was obtained from Staunton and Lynchburg, but it arrived too late to save the public hall and the rotunda. The fire started in the public hall. A large quantity of dynamite was used on the portico between the rotunda and the public hall, but, beyond displacing the large pillars, nothing was accomplished. Attention was then given to the buildings known as the "old chapel" and reading room. These were blown up, the debris was saturated with water and the fire thereby was confined to the hall and rotunda.

The library, containing about $15,000 worth of books, statues, paintings, etc., was in the rotunda. An effort to save these resulted in removing the Jefferson statue and three-fourths of the books. Everything else was burned. At 2 o'clock the fire was gotten under control. The total loss is estimated at not less than $300,000, with an insurance of $25,000 on the buildings and contents. The origin of the fire is not known.

MAY CAUSE A LYNCHING.

Unknown Misanthrope Riddles the Stars and Stripes with Bullets.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 28.—The farmers of Lawn Ridge, a small hamlet in the extreme northern portion of the county, are wild with indignation over an insult there to the American flag. Recently in compliance with the state law they floated a large flag from the village school-house, but Friday evening some one emptied the contents of a shotgun into it, completely riddling it. A vigilance committee was organized and guards have been on duty day and night since. Should the identity of the guilty party be discovered it is more than probable that a lynching would result.

Will Arrest the Settlers.

Rawlins, Wyo., Oct. 28.—From troops returning from Jackson's Hole it was learned that the United States marshal for Wyoming is now in Jackson's Hole for the purpose of arresting settlers who comprised the constable's posse which in July last killed and wounded several Indians and precipitated the Bannock scare. It is believed the entire posse, which consisted of Constable Manning and twenty-six deputies, is to be arrested and brought before the United States court, which meets in Cheyenne early in November. The settlers have repeatedly expressed their willingness to stand trial for killing the Indians who were arrested for violating Wyoming game laws, and it is believed there will be no trouble in effecting their arrest.

Indiana Christian Endeavor.

Greensburg, Ind., Oct. 28.—The eighth annual Christian Endeavor convention of Indiana closed last night with a devout service in Convention Hall with 10,000 people present and at the First Methodist church with 800 present. In all the churches special services were rendered. The silken banner for the greatest increase of junior society members was won by the twelfth district, in which Muncie is located. L. J. Kirkpatrick, Kokomo, was elected president. Five hundred and fifty-six dollars was raised for the state work, and adjournment was taken to meet in Muncie in 1896.

Battleship Is Defective.

New York, Oct. 28.—The Herald publishes a statement that the new second-class battleship Maine, which is to go to sea today, draws three feet less water aft than forward, and also that she has a bad list to starboard, her right side being sunk deeper than the left side. A naval expert, who looked at the ship in the navy yard at Brooklyn, says she has many defects.

Talmage's First Washington Sermon.

Washington, Oct. 28.—T. DeWitt Talmage preached his initial sermon as copastor of the First Presbyterian church last night. The crowd was an immense one. Seven policemen were on hand to keep the people in order, and two ladies in the church fainted.

Bridge Jumper Killed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Patrick Callahan, at 6:52 o'clock yesterday, leaped from the north side of the Poughkeepsie bridge. He dropped 212 feet to the water. At 11:25 o'clock in the evening he died at a hotel from the injuries

HOLMES, THE FIEND
IS NOW AT THE BARTHE SENSATIONAL MURDER
TRIAL BEGINS.

The Many Crimes Attributed to H. H. Holmes, Alias Herman Mudgett, Will Be Investigated by a Philadelphia Court—A Crowd of Witnesses Are Present.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—H. H. Holmes, or Herman Mudgett, whose name or alias has rung throughout the length of the continent as the most unscrupulous and skillful murderer of modern times, will be placed on trial for his life this morning in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of this city.

The specific charge to which he is called upon to answer is the murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel, and he has already officially declared himself "not guilty." The revolting details of the many crimes with which Holmes' name has been directly or indirectly connected have been given such publicity, and the cold, implacable demeanor which has characterized the man throughout has been so frequently commented upon, that the trial will probably pass into history of the most celebrated case known to the criminal annals of this hemisphere.

The commonwealth has already expended thousands of dollars in its efforts to bring the prisoner to summary justice, and there is an indication that should a conviction for murder in the first degree be obtained, he will be "railroaded" to the gallows.

Witnesses have been brought to this city from Boston, Chicago, Indianapolis, Irvington, Ind., and almost every city where he is known to have lived at various times. What revelations these witnesses will make has been kept a profound secret by the prosecuting officers, but there is expectation of sensational developments. Detective Geyer, who has been traveling extensively for months throughout the country in search of evidences of Holmes' movements, will be one of the principal witnesses for the commonwealth. The skull and portions of the body of Pitzel, as well as the remains of the boy, Howard Pitzel, who is thought to have been murdered by Holmes in Indianapolis, will be exhibited during the course of the trial.

Judge Arnold will be upon the bench, and he has already signified his intention of holding three sessions a day—morning, afternoon and night—so long as the persons interested can stand the strain. The prosecution will be in the hands of District Attorney Graham and a corps of assistants, while the interests of the prisoner will be guarded by Messrs. Shoemaker and Rotan, young members of the local bar.

Consequent upon the widespread publicity given the case, it is feared that several days will be occupied in securing a jury of men who have not already formed decided opinions concerning the guilt or innocence of Holmes.

The murder of Pitzel, if murder it was, occurred more than a year ago. The body, burned and blackened, as if by an explosion, was discovered in the house, No. 1326 Callowhill street, this city, on Sept. 3, 1894. As he had been known as an inventor named Perry, the supposition was that he had met death by accident, while experimenting. Subsequently the charge was made that Pitzel had been murdered by Holmes in an attempt to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life association of Philadelphia out of $10,000 which has been paid by the company to Mrs. Pitzel, supposed to have been a party to the conspiracy, Holmes having first introduced Pitzel to the company.

OCEAN FREIGHT WAR.

American Shippers Likely to Get the Worst of It.

Washington, Oct. 28.—United States Consul Seymour, writing from Canton, informs the state department of the inauguration of a war on freight rates between Asiatic and American ports by British steamers reaching the east from New York via the Suez canal. Writing on the 7th of September, he said that the Annandale, a ship of 7,000 tons burden, had left Hong Kong the week before direct for New York via this route and that the Nestor, another large British ship, was then taking cargo for New York to be taken through the canal. The price per ton charged by these vessels to New York is about $6, or less than one-fourth of what shippers pay who transport overland from New York to the Pacific coast, and thence to China and Japan by any of the established Pacific steamship lines. Mr. Seymour expresses the opinion that this competition is certain to injure the trans-oceanic business of the Pacific coast. He suggests a semi-monthly line of American steamers between New York and eastern Asia and adds it would be worth while if necessary to maintain the line by the use of an ironclad commerce destroyer.

Social Reformers Meet.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28.—A conference of Applied Christian Workers and Social Reformers opened in Plymouth tabernacle in this city yesterday and will continue through the week. The convention opened with a sermon by Graham Taylor, D. D., of the Chicago theological seminary. In the evening Professor Herron addressed a large audience on "The Sociality of Religion," the first of a series of lectures.

Madison Strikers Desperate.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 28.—The tailors' strike has assumed a serious aspect. Among the forty strikers, who are nearly all Danes and Swedes, are a few men of known anarchistic tendencies, and they have made divers dire threats, with little attention has been paid. Saturday, however, a piece of gas pipe, plugged at both ends and a hole drilled for fuse, was found in the yard of H. J. Veerhusen, one of the employers. The family were afraid to handle it, and when the police were notified it had mysteriously disappeared. Yesterday another bomb of more modern construction was found on a walk in the Capitol park, about half a block from where the strikers hold their meetings. These discoveries have made the employers exceedingly nervous, and policemen have been stationed about their residences.

Christian Temperance Women.

Whitehall, Wis., Oct. 28.—The seventh district Woman's Christian Temperance union convention meets here next Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 30 and 31. The county convention will also be held on Friday, the following day.

MUST HAVE RAIN.

Fifty thousand Acres of Land in Indiana in Great Danger.

Crown Point, Ind., Oct. 28.—Should no rain fall soon and the high winds continue, the southeastern portion of Porter county and part of Jasper, consisting of nearly 50,000 acres, will be one heap of ashes. Since high winds have prevailed live is in jeopardy. Flames leaped 100 feet high yesterday. The land now burning belongs to Morris & Co. of Chicago, and already it is estimated at a low figure that 12,000 acres have been burned over. People living at Baum's bridge, four miles from the flames, are preparing to leave, as they are surely doomed if they remain. Thousands upon thousands of tons of hay have been consumed and $150,000 worth of fattened cattle owned by Nelson Morris are in great danger. The herd, consisting of 2,700 head, is being driven south.

Ambassador Eustis Ill.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Hon. J. B. Eustis, United States ambassador, made arrangements to depart immediately for Roteath in Ireland upon hearing of the death of his wife there, but his physicians have prohibited his going. President Faure has sent his aide to Ambassador Eustis with an expression of his condolence. All the ministers of the French government, the diplomats and numerous officers have left their cards at the embassy as a similar expression of condolence.

Flour Handles Strike.

Gladstone, Mich., Oct. 28.—The flour handlers employed on the Soo docks here struck in a body last evening. They have been getting 20 cents an hour and now demand 30. The Washburn is ready to load, but there are no idle men in the city, and it is doubtful if she can be loaded, if the company does not accede to the demand for the new rate. About 100 men are out.

ALASKA'S BOUNDARY.

Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote Will Settle It.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Representations have been made to Secretary of State Olney that steps should be taken at once to determine by an international survey party the exact location of that portion of the Alaska boundary line which lies along the 141st meridian. Independent surveyors, representing the United States and Canada, have erected boundaries near the bank of the Yukon river on what each claims to be the 141st meridian. These two boundaries are 7.3 miles apart on an east and west line, the mark of the Canadian surveyor being the most westerly one. The territory lying between, and which may be considered in dispute, embraces the mouth of Forty Mile Creek, through which access is had to the rich placer mines on the headwaters of that stream. There is reason to believe Secretary Olney will take the matter up at once with Sir Julian Pauncefote and come to a definite understanding.

AMERICAN LINE SUBSIDY.

Defeat of St. Louis Will Not Affect United States Mail Contract.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Second Assistant Postmaster Gen. Neilson said, in reference to the London Telegraph's statement that the Majestic had earned for the White Star Line a contract for carrying the United States mails through beating the St. Louis on a recent trip, that the English paper evidently did not know the provisions of the law. Under the subsidy act the United States has made a contract with the American Line for carrying the mails for ten years at $4 per mile once a week. Mr. Neilson added that when the department ascertains just what mail may be held an order will be issued directing all mails which can be held to be sent by the American Line, but important mails which must not be delayed will be sent by the White Star, the Cunard or any other line which will get them across the ocean in the shortest time.

MARTIAL LAW.

Gov. McConnell of Idaho Sends a Warning to Strikers.

Boise City, Idaho, Oct. 28.—Governor McConnell received an appeal yesterday from the mine managers at Wallace stating that the Miners' Union has ordered the miners out of the Hunter mine at Mullen, and threatens to take them out if they do not join the union. The Governor is asked to proclaim martial law and order out the militia. Another dispatch says that the people of Mullen want to organize a militia company. The Governor notified militia captains at Wardner to hold their companies in readiness to proceed to Mullen. He has directed Colonel Morrow, at Wallace, to go to Mullen and muster in the company. He has wired the sheriff that property and life must be protected, and martial law will be declared instantly if an outbreak occurs.

Would-Be Murderer Shot.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 28.—L. U. Orme, sheriff of this county, shot Dr. Rose at Mesa, sixteen miles east of Phoenix early yesterday morning, killing him instantly. Rose, with two confederates, had attempted to murder the Williams' family, consisting of the doctor, his young wife and daughter. The latter was formerly the wife of Dr. Rose in Kansas. The confederates, Burt and Cooley, were captured and placed in jail. Burt previously gave the plot away to the sheriff, but was afraid to refuse to help execute the plans of the murder for fear Rose would kill him.

Texas Cattle Shipments Heavy.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 28.—The cattle movement from the state, especially from the Panhandle country, has been quite large during the last few weeks. From the latter country alone there have been shipped out 30,000 head, most of the stock going to the northern markets, St. Louis in particular. The total shipments to be made from the Amarillo country will not fall short of 100,000 head and will bring to the stockraisers $2,500,000. It is claimed the Amarillo has become the largest original shipping point in the world.

Would Shoot Illegal Voters.

Denver, Col., Oct. 28.—The Rev. Myron W. Reed created a sensation by an address at a populist campaign meeting Saturday night by advising heroic methods for handling election frauds. In an impassioned speech he urged that 200 men be armed on election day to watch the polls, and whenever any one was detected fraudulently voting that he be shot down on the spot. He scored the people of today as lacking the spirit which the early settlers displayed in dealing with offenders of the law. After detailing his plan the reverend gentleman closed with the remark: "That's the kind of a saint I am."

Russian Operations.

London, Oct. 28.—The Graphic states that it has high official authority for saying that the report received by the Times from its correspondent in Hong Kong to the effect that China accords Russia the privilege of anchoring her fleet at Port Arthur and of building railroads connecting Vladivostok and Port Arthur bears no resemblance whatever to the actual facts of the negotiations between China and Russia. "Moreover," the Graphic continues, "Russia is not approaching the crisis in an anti-English spirit."

TABLES ARE TURNED BY THE ARMENIANS'THEY BEGIN AN ATTACK ON THE TURKS.

It Was a Religious Assault and Many Persons Were Slain on Both Sides—Mr. Gladstone Writes a Long Letter Denouncing the Sultan of Turkey For His Government.

Constantinople, Oct. 28.—The governor of Bitlis has telegraphed to the Porte that armed Armenians attacked the mosques when the Mussulmans assembled for Friday's prayer. The latter were unarmed and were obliged to defend themselves with stones and sticks. The troops and the gendarmes were ordered out to restore order. Many were killed and wounded on both sides.

GLADSTONE APPEALS TO GOD.

Great English Leader Talks Bitterly of the Sultan.

London, Oct. 28.—A local paper says that Mme. Novkoff received the following letter from Mr. Gladstone anent the sultan and the Armenians:

"Dear Mme. Novkoff: I shall carefully and for many reasons keep myself to myself. I see in mind that wretched sultan, whom God has given as a curse to mankind, waving his flag in triumph and the adversaries at his feet are Russia, France and England. As to the division of shame among them I care little enough, but hope that my own country will, for its own good, be made conscious and exhibited to the world for its full share, whatever that may be. May God, in his mercy, send a speedy end to the governing Turk and all his doings—as I said when I could say and as I say in my political deprecature or death. Always sincerely yours,

"WILLIAM E. GLADSTONE."

A telegram from Constantinople says that a threatening letter was recently found in the palace addressed to the sultan. An inquiry incriminated fourteen members of the imperial household. All of them were executed on the same day within the precincts of Yildiz. Thus the sultan's mind was relieved of a very great weight.

It is rumored that Lord Dufferin will return to Constantinople as special envoy before his retirement, Sir Phillip Currie, present ambassador at Constantinople, meanwhile taking his place at Paris.

MANY SHIPS OVERDUE.

San Francisco Underwriters Speculating on Their Probable Fate.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—The Merchants' Exchange announces that no information has been received from the overdue vessels bound from this city to foreign ports. While there is still hope of hearing from the Lord Spencer, which left here two hundred days ago for Queenstown, it is not believed that the Star of Austria, bound to Queenstown, and the Earl of Hope-toun, for Adelaide, will ever be heard from again. Although the Lord Brassy has been out eighty days from Hong Kong to Port Blakely, her absence is accounted for by the fact that she is a light ship with a foul bottom. More interest is centered in the Lord Spencer than in any vessel that ever sailed from this port. When it was announced that the British underwriters were offering 80 per cent for reinsurance, there was a rush to get some of the risk. Should the Lord Spencer fail to arrive at her destination, the shipping and insurance men of this city will be badly beaten. If, however, she turns up within the next few days thousands of dollars will be raked in by the speculators.

May Fight in Private.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 28.—Constable Allen P. Davis of Hot Springs was in the city today and gave out information which leads those who talked to him to believe that Corbett and Fitzsimmons will fight in private not far from Hot Springs one day about the latter part of this week. The prevailing opinion in sporting circles is that the fight will certainly occur at some point in or near Garland county. A close friend of Governor Clarke has been shown letters from Hot Springs which tend to confirm the belief that the fight will occur. Governor Clarke is said to have remarked that he did not care how much they fought so long as it was conducted in private and without being advertised.

Ex-Gov. Beveridge May Recover.

Sandwich, Ill., Oct. 28.—Ex-Governor John L. Beveridge had another of his bad turns yesterday afternoon, but it was less severe than former ones, and lasted only a short time. Last night and today he has rested easy, and to all appearances is about the same as he has been for the last four or five days, with the exception that he is inclined to be a little delirious at times. There is still some hope left of his recovery, as he seems to hold his ground, but the doctor fears that blood poisoning will be the next complication to battle with.

Don't Want Confederate Veterans.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—Custer Post, G. A. R., voted down the resolution introduced a week ago to ask congress to admit ex-confederates to the Soldiers' Homes.

E. G. FIFIELD TELLS OF THE EARLY DAYS

JANESVILLE MAN WRITES AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Milwaukee Sentinel Prints His Story as Recalled by the Semi-Centennial Celebration at the Cream City—A "Hitch and Tie Ride"—Hauled Goods by Team.

E. G. Fifield writes an interesting letter to the Milwaukee Sentinel concerning early days in Wisconsin, it being as follows: "I was greatly interested in reading the account of your semi-centennial celebration. It carried me back to what I had to pass through to reach Milwaukee in 1837. I left Milwaukee in a company of eleven, all bound for Milwaukee, in the territory of Wisconsin. We took the Concord stage to Burlington, steamer to Whitehall, canal boat to Troy, line boat on the Erie canal to Buffalo, steamer to Detroit, and there we came to a temporary standstill, as there was no boat going around the lakes for several days. Mr. Sawyer, who had charge of a family, hired a team to take them across Michigan to St. Joseph, a distance of 280 miles. Some young men and myself made the journey on foot, keeping up with the team. At St. Joseph we took a sailboat for Chicago and from there a sailboat to Milwaukee. The boat was anchored some way out we were taken ashore in small boats and taken to a tavern near the shore. We left Vermont, May 15 and arrived at Milwaukee June 11, being twenty-seven days on our trip. At the tavern we stopped at I met H. N. Wells, the only man I remember talking with while there, as I left the next morning. I kept track of him through all his ups and downs. I served on juries several times in cases in which he was attorney, under territorial government, when Judge Erwin was judge. The last case was at Janesville when he was pitted against E. V. Whiton.

Took a Long Walk

"Mr. Sawyer, who had charge of the family, expected to have me E. G. Darling at Milwaukee, whose mother and half-brothers and sisters were in charge of Mr. Sawyer, but Mr. Darling was out at Bark river to build and run a saw mill for the Milwaukee & Rock River Land company. I volunteered to walk out and notify Mr. Darling of the arrival of the family. I was directed to follow the blazed line and wagon track through the Milwaukee woods twenty miles and I would come to a large white oak tree with the bark hewn off and written with red chalk, "Bark River Mill" with hand pointing to the left. A mile ahead I was to reach Prairie village (now Waubesa). I followed directions, found the tree, came to a log house, inquired the distance to the village, was told I was at or in it then, but there was one other house over behind the hill in sight of the Bark river road. I inquired the distance I would have to go to get a place to stop for the night. If I passed the next house the man said, it would be thirty miles away and then I would be at the mill.

Took a "Hitch and Tie Ride"

"I stopped over night at the next house and started on my thirty mile tramp the next morning. After walking several miles I discovered in the distance behind me a man on a pony riding very fast. I first thought it was an Indian and that he meant mischief, but I was in his power and there was no use trying to dodge. When he overtook me it proved to be Sheriff Aldrich of Milwaukee going to the mill on business. He said he had been riding pretty fast to overtake me to have company. I thought it strange for a man on a fleet pony to want to overtake a man on foot for company on a long journey, but I had nothing to lose and kept quiet. He was full of talk and western stories but very soon said we must get along faster than this or we would not reach the mill before night. I thought the idea a good one for him, but I was up to my full speed already. He said he would try the game of ride and tie. I said I did not understand it. He dismounted and said:

"You take the pony and put him through for a mile or so and tie and pass on, and I will overtake and ride the pony, pass you and tie, and we can in that way travel nearly as fast as if both had ponies. I liked the plan very much, and we practiced it through to the mill, arriving there about 3 p. m. We went fishing below the dam the next morning. My new-made friend returned to Milwaukee, and I have not seen him since or kept any track of him. As he was older than myself I suppose he has gone to the spirit land ere this.

Drove a Mill Team

"I now found myself where it cost $1 a day to live on bread and pork. I had but $2 50 left. I hired out to drive the team to stock the mill and kept the job ten months. Some of that lumber was bought by Mr. Jones to build the first frame house in this city. I made a claim that season three miles above Jefferson near where Byron Kilbourn located the west end of the Milwaukee and Rock river canal. In fact, I was to give a part of my land if the canal was built and terminated at that point. John Hustis and a man by the name of Buchard seemed to have followed through the route with Kilbourn. That project hurt instead of helping the country through which it ran, as lands five miles on each side of the route were held at $2.50 an acre and settlers avoided getting onto them. An appropriation was made by the government to build a territorial road from Milwaukee to Madison, in the winter and spring of 1839. I think Kilbourn was the means of getting that project through. I worked on the west end, near Rock river, and drove the first team to Milwaukee that ever passed over the road in going in. All the contractors had not cleared all the timbers out, so I had to go around the chopping. I bought a load of pork and flour, think of Luddington, at his old corner, and returned. The road was then cleared four rods wide, according to contract.

Came to Janesville.

"I roughed it on my claim about nine years, then went to Janesville and opened a little lumber yard and dealt mostly in hard wood. I drew some pine from Milwaukee by teams I bought more of Ludington than of others. I remember Anson Eldred and Grant and others in the business. I sent in wheat and stored it in Sweet's warehouse and loaded teams back with lumber paying 20 cents per bushel for drawing wheat in and $4 per 1,000 on lumber back.

"I knew in an early day a Judge Hyer, who, I think, helped survey and plat the village of Milwaukee. I was very well acquainted with E. V. Whiton, the Popes, the Stones, the Bogans, the Smiths and David Sargent, mentioned in your list. I think only one of that list is now living. One of the Smiths lives in Rock county. At the time I got to Bark river mill there was not a frame house in the valley of Rock river in the territory of Wisconsin between Beloit and Green Bay. Very few persons are now on earth who were in Wisconsin June 11, 1837, when I landed in Milwaukee, and I was in my 21st year then, and I am in my 79th year now.

Come and see us. F. A. Taylor.

CONFUCIUS' GOSPEL HELD UP TO LIGHT

REV. V. E. SOUTHWORTH'S LECTURE AT ALL SOULS.

It Was One of the Interesting Series on the World's Religions—Concentration Meeting by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at the Congregational Church.

Rev Victor E. Southworth told of "The Gospel of Confucius" at All Souls church yesterday morning, it being one of the regular series of discourses on the religions of the world. He said in part that three great ideas are always uppermost in this man's teachings. He repeats them in many ways and seems never weary of these three ideas: (1) Illustrate illustrious virtues. (2) Renovate the people. (3) Rest in the highest excellence.

Illustrious virtue is that by which heaven has enriched our natures. To illustrate illustrious virtue means to live according to that nature, to study, to cultivate the person, to rectify the heart and make the thoughts sincere. When we allow no self deception, the heart moves without effort to what is right. Only we must be watchful not to deceive ourselves. "It is only he who is possessed of the most complete sincerity who can give to his nature its complete development."

"To renovate people" means to love and instruct the people and help them to bring their life to completeness. Especially by the force of example to win them to the best ways. "From the loving example of one family the whole state becomes loving and from the courtesies of one family the whole state becomes courteous."

Confucius loved the people. Great as he was he did not allow his greatness to separate him from the people. A man said, "Associate with those from whom you can gain some advantage. Do not associate with those from whom you cannot gain some advantage." Confucius replied "Not so. This is different from the truth as I see it. The superior man honors the talented and the virtuous but he is patient with all. He praises the good, but he is sorry for the incompetent. Whom is there among men whom I will not bear with? What have we to do with putting away of others?"

Oh! would God our modern Christianity were equal to such humanitarian sympathy. Would God our sectarian exclusiveness could be converted into such genuine catholicity. The churches love the saints, but what becomes of the people?

"To rest in the highest excellence" means never to rest until in these two preceding matters you have reached perfection i. e., in your own development and in care for others. Confucius said little about personal salvation. He had no inducements in the way of eternal blessedness by which to notice the vicious wild faults of virtue. He said very little about "future rewards" vs. "future punishments." He did not consider these things morally right. His anxiety was centered in the cultivation and preservation, one of the personal characters and two of the social blessedness. When you have made the best of the people, then you may rest."

Y. P. C. E. Consecration Meeting.

The monthly consecration meeting of the Congregational Christian Endeavor Society was held last evening with a good attendance. Miss Julia Echlin acted as leader. Professor and Mrs. H. C. Buell, Miss Minnie Abar, Anna Town, Grace Miller, and Messrs. Charles and Simon Macron, were received into membership. The regular business meeting is to be held Friday evening of this week, in connection with the initial social. All members and friends of the society are invited to come and bring a lead pencil.

Rev. T. Kidder, of Mesasha, preached in the morning at the Congregational church on the subject "He Could Not Be Led," urging all to have the spirit of Christ as he, by his loving helpfulness to all with whom he came in contact, made Himself a necessity.

CAME TO THEIR HOME WITH BROKEN BONES

THOSE FOOTBALL PLAYERS;
FILLED WITH GROANS.

Twat at Beloit Their Blood Was Shed
—Line City Lads Stood Them on Their Head—Blackened Their Eyes;
Buckled Their Spines and Punched
Them, Yea, a Thousand Times.

Charles H. Sutherland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland, had one of the bones of his right shoulder fractured while playing football at Beloit Saturday morning. Mr. Sutherland, who is attending Beloit College, was playing with the Freshmen team against the Academy eleven when the accident occurred. He came home Saturday night, and returned to Beloit this morning to resume his studies. His injury is a painful one, however, and he may yet be compelled to give up his work until he recovers.

Like a lot of battle scarred veterans, the High school first eleven returned from Beloit Saturday night. Victory was not perched on their banner, but the Beloit boys, so to speak, had "perched on their necks." Samuel Echlin had been most roughly handled.

No Bones Were Broken.
Young Echlin was playing with the Janesville team when an athletic young man bowled him over and planted his knees on Echlin's chest. That ended Echlin's fun and a substitute took his place. A Beloit doctor thought the Janesville player's ribs were broken but to his proved untrue and the internal injuries that were feared did not materialize. Echlin's injuries were painful, but it is thought that he will be able to be out of doors tomorrow.

But there were others.
Volney D. Atwood looked as if he had argued with a section man. His eye was swollen shut and his lip puffed up like a mushroom, but although the injuries were neither a joy forever nor conducive to personal beauty, there was nothing serious about them. Other players had sore spots and contusions under their padded clothing, although none of them showed the effects of the game.

Janesville's Eleven Defeated.

The Janesville High school eleven met defeat at Beloit at the hands of Beloit High school team, by a score of 38 to 0. An enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game. Beloit outplayed Janesville at every point, and at times manifested the ability of a well-coached college team. The features of the game were the playing of Strothers, Kenzy and Bittle of the Beloit team, the former making three runs of over sixty yards each. The line up was as follows:

Janesville H. S. Position. Beloit H. S.
Jerg.....center.....Kennedy
Hockett.....right guard.....H. Ford
Merritt.....left guard.....F. Ford
Sutherland.....right tackle.....Carmery
Peterson.....left tackle.....Mills
Rowe.....right end.....Strothers
Carpenter.....left end.....Ackley
McNeil.....right half.....Little
Echlin.....left half.....Garrison
Williamson.....quarter back.....Munn
Atwood.....full back.....Kenzy
Touchdowns—Bittle 3; Kenzy 2; Strothers 4.

The Second Eleven Win at Clinton.

The second eleven of the Janesville High school defeated the High school team at Clinton Saturday by a score of 18 to 0. Twenty minute halves were played, and although the Clinton team averaged 150 pounds each, while the Janesville averaged only 120 pounds, the Clintonites could not win. The Janesville players were as follows:

Center. Wray; right guard, Millmore; right tackle, Bonesteel; right end, Stewart; left guard, Nott; left tackle, Scott; left end, Gooden; quarter back, North; left half, Hemmingsway; right half, Matthews; full back, Blakely; substitute, Murwin. Referee, Frank Reynolds.

The First ward team were defeated by the Second ward team at Athletic Park Saturday by a score of 8 to 6. Barron, of the First ward team, and Harry Nowlan, of the Second ward eleven, did the best work.

The first eleven of the Janesville High school will meet the Evansville team at Athletic Park next Saturday.

Take Care! There is Danger

In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly poisons of Bright's disease and diabetes will work the bodily back of health if it is allowed to drift rudderless upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the helm toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs without irritating and exciting them. Two effects to be apprehended from the unmediated stimuli largely resorted to. These have a tendency to react prejudicially. The Bitters invigorate the kidneys and bladder in common with the nerves and digestive organs, and so afford lasting aid. It also affords aid assistance in preventing and curing incontinent and remittent fever. Biliousness, constipation and rheumatism it also subjugates.

Mounding Up Trees.

Some years ago a gentleman residing near Cincinnati created a sensation by what he regarded a new method of keeping peach trees healthy, says Mehan's Monthly. All that he did was to pile up earth about the trees, the mound reaching up to the branches. It took several cart loads of earth to make these mounds, and the little orchard had the appearance of bushes growing out of the top of the cone of earth. Every one used to look on and laugh at the thought of burying up the trunk of a tree in order to make it healthy, but there were the trees, and undoubtedly models of health. Those who saw simply stated their belief that it was only a coincidence, and that the trees would probably have been as healthy without the mound of earth as with it. Since it has come to be well recognized that many of the diseases of plants, not merely of the peach tree, but of other trees, are caused by the mycelium of a minute fungus attacking the roots, it is not at all unlikely that this mound of earth operated beneficially by preventing the growth of the fungus which preys upon the roots of trees. It is now well understood that all plants of a low order of vegetation, which we know as fungi, will only grow under a peculiar combination of circumstances. Among other things they must be very near the surface of the earth, and if buried to the depth they would be under a mound, it is unlikely that fungi would find a satisfactory home. Some will say right here that they thought burying up the trunks of trees and covering the surface roots with earth was destructive to health; but the burying by itself is not the reason trees die when earth is piled over them to a considerable depth, but from the fact that the young growing roots do not get air. These young, growing roots are almost all at the extremities, and the mound of earth around the trunk would not in the slightest degree, injure these outer roots. Whenever a valued tree is somewhat buried, it is customary to leave a space around the trunk, perhaps building a dry wall, in order to keep the earth from getting near the trunk; but this is not that the earth is injurious, but to give a chance for water to flow freely down into the soil, and the flow of water always leads to a flow of air following the water. These remarks are suggested by an article in an agricultural paper, stating that the apple borer and the peach borer have been kept out of the trunk of trees by making a mound of earth around the trunks.

A. G. Bartley of Magic, Pa., writes: "I feel it a duty of mine to inform you and the public that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of a very bad case of eczema. It also cured my boy of a running sore on his leg." C. D. Stevens.

COLLEGE BOYS SAY THEY DID NO HARM

STRONG FIGHT BEING MADE BY MADISON STUDENTS.

Claim That Prank Played by the Sophomores Has Been the Rule For Years and That They Did no More Than Others Have Done Before Them.

That teapot tempest is still raging at Madison with the probability that it will have its effect upon future students of the university and will in a measure keep the unsophisticated freshmen for several years to come from many a hard encounter with their natural enemies, the sophomores. That it will entirely do away with hazing, or will prevent occasional clashes between the "sophs" and the "freshies" could hardly be expected in this advanced and progressive college, but it will teach the students to "keep an eye on the professor" when pranks are contemplated, and its effect taken all in all will no doubt be wholesome.

The three suspended lads do not deny that they interfered with the military practice but set up the claim that it has been customary to prevent the first drill and that they were only doing what hundreds of pupils have done in former years without ever being called to account for the same. The young men upon whom the wrath of the faculty fell were not the only students interested in looking after the lower classmen on the occasion of the drill but were evidently picked out as ringleaders.

Both the sophomores and freshmen classes have held meetings and passed resolutions deploring the suspension of the students and requesting the faculty to reconsider its action in the matter.

A petition to the faculty asking that the suspended students be reinstated is being circulated among the students and already has many signatures. It will be presented at the faculty meeting Monday and it is expected some definite action will be taken at that time. The petition is as follows:

"Whereas, during the first military drill of the class of '99 an attempt was made by the sophomores to interfere with it; the same.

"Whereas, after careful deliberation you have seen fit to suspend several of our members: namely, John Day, George W. Pope and Frank Dillon, for participation in the same.

"We do hereby respectfully petition that you reconsider your action and cause an alleviation of the punishment for the following reasons:

"1. That it has always been customary for the sophomores to interfere with the first drill of the freshman class.

"2. That laboring under that impression we were not aware of the possible consequences of such interference.

"3. That we feel that the above named persons should not be punished for the actions of the class.

"With the resolve to interfere no further with the military drill, we respectfully submit these resolutions."

THE pain that sometimes strikes a man at the most important moment is due to indigestion. It may come in the midst of a dinner and make the feast a mockery. It is a reminder that he may not eat what he chooses, nor when he chooses. He is a slave to the weakness of his stomach. A man's health and strength depend upon what he gets out of his food. This depends on his digestion. Constipation stops digestion. Remove the obstruction by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a positive cure for constipation and its attendant ills—headaches, sour stomach, flatulence, dizziness, biliousness and "heartburn." The "Pellets" are very gentle in their action. They simply assist nature. They give no violent wrench to the system. They cause no pain, nor griping.

SUCCESS OF "THE RAINMAKERS"

Donnelly & Girard's Performance Won New York—Here Tomorrow Night

The success which followed the appearance of Donnelly & Girard in New York, in "The Rainmakers," is still the talk of the Bialto. The comedy was new to New Yorkers, but after the opening night the great theatre was crowded to the doors at every performance and on dozens of evenings standing room could not be had after 8:30 o'clock. The bright, catchy songs, the brilliant music, and absolutely novel specialties, were a revelation to the patrons of the season in the metropolis, beyond the pre-adventure of a doubt. "The Rainmakers" will be seen at the Myers Grand tomorrow night.

The seat sale opens tonight at 7 o'clock. See that you are in line Donnelly & Girard will fill the house.

SAY, why don't you try Dewitt's Little Early Risers? These little pills cure headache, indigestion and constipation. They're small but do the work. C. D. Setvens

The Monroe Doctrine.

The Monroe doctrine is dearer to the heart of all Americans than any other tradition of our statesmanship. On everything else there is difference of opinion, but none on this. All Americans are agreed that there must be no further extension of European power in either America. The very unanimity of this opinion makes unnecessary the military preparation General Longstreet and some other soldiers would like to see. The resources of the country are practically inexhaustible, and all these are behind every protest the country makes against European aggression. It is through vigorous and capable administration, not through standing armies, that the United States Government is to be made respectable at home and abroad.

Corrected Himself.

Peddler—"Suspenders, mister? Sell 'in 'em cheap."

Lady (in modern attire)—"Sir, I'm a lady."

Peddler—"Beg parding. Suspenders, madame?"

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1483—Desiderius Erasmus, scholar and reformer of the reformation, was born at Rotterdam; died 1536.

1492—Columbus discovered Cuba.

1793—Marshal Grouchy, the commander blamed by Bonaparte for his loss of Waterloo, was born at Paris.

1804—John Leech of Punch, the most fertile humorist known in modern pictorial art, died; born 1807. Leech was a Londoner. His designs of humorous figures were drawn with rapidity, but were excellent specimens of art, notwithstanding. He published "Pictures of Life and Character" and "The Rising Generation," both displaying rare perception of the varieties of character and a keen sense of the ludicrous.

1835—The Bartholdi statue of Liberty in New York harbor was unveiled.

1892—Fire in the wholesale district of Milwaukee; loss, $3,500,000; 10 deaths.

1893—Hon. Carter H. Harrison, mayor of Chicago, assassinated by Prendergast.

The Unexpected.

The landlord presents his bill to the traveler. The latter looks at the sum total and prepares to pay without demur.

Mine host, stupefied at this unwonted promptitude on the part of a guest, stammers out:

"Beg your pardon, sir, will you let me have another look at the bill? I must have omitted something."—Le Voltin.

A Quartette.

From the Market Report—"Pen, ink and paper are stationary."

Chaos is a surplus stock of nothing with no place to put it in.

"Be ye therefore steadfast," said the preacher; but the newspaper next day printed it: "Be ye there for breakfast."

Married—Mr. John Twinkle to Miss Fanny Starr. "Twinkle, twinkle, little Stars."—Judge.

Epitaphic License.

Here is an epitaph inscribed on a tombstone in a western New York cemetery:

The last remains of Mary Jones
 Lie buried underneath these stones.
 Her name was Brown; the name of Jones
 Is used because it rhymes with stones.

A TRIFLE TOO LIBERAL.

"Would you please chop these ribs across for me?"

"John, just break this lady's bones for her."—July.

Laying in Provisions.

"Well, I see the sandwich restaurant has bought the worn-out machinery of the Collars and Cuffs Laundry company."

"What can they want with the machines?"

"O, they take the rubber off the wringers and make it into chicken salad."—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Full of Grit.

Grocer—How did you like that last sugar?

Customer—I'd match that sugar against any other brand with eight ounce gloves for $1,000 a side.

Grocer—What are you talking about?

Customer—I was merely trying to convey the idea that it had lots of sand.

—Philadelphia Record.

A Morning Scare.

Mrs. Bings (shaking her sleeping husband)—Wake up, quick! Something is wrong! I'm afraid the house is on fire!

Mr. Bings—Eh? What?

Mrs. Bings—Something is wrong. It's only six o'clock, and the girl is up and downstairs.—N. Y. Weekly.

Impudent Professionals.

Mrs. Squills—The doctor has sent in that bill again; it is the fourth or fifth time, too. I really believe he wants us to pay it.

Mr. Squills—Well, I'll be darned! Such impudence! Next thing the preacher will be wantin' pay, too.—N. Y. Weekly.

Gave as Directed.

Dr. Pille—Did you administer the opiate at nine o'clock, as I directed?

Mrs. Gamp (with a sniff)—That I did, sir, but it seemed a pity to have to wake the poor man out of the first sound sleep he's had in four days to give it to him.—N. Y. Journal.

Which?

"Where is your father, Waldo?" asked the visitor.

"He's gone away on his vocation," said Waldo.

And then the visitor couldn't make up his mind whether Mr. Stiggs had gone to business or fishing.

THE NEWS NOTES OF THE TOWN

Best beaver overcoat $3.50. Golden Eagle.

The fall opening sale will continue this week (Golden Eagle).

Get your winter overcoat for little money at the Annex.

Shoes for winter wear that cost you very little money at the Annex.

CLEMENT, BANE & Co's., well known garments make up the $10.00 stock of clothing at the ANNEX.

AFTER a severe sickness Dr. McCausey has returned to his office and is again ready to meet his patients.

PLENTY of overcoats and ulsters are being worn in Janesville that were bought of us four seasons ago, and they are all pretty good yet. This is a pretty good recommendation for Zeigler's clothing. Come in. We will point out many of whom you can enquire all about the clothing we sell. T. J. Zeigler.

You see how it is. The tailor has got to run down our goods because we are in direct competition with their finest work. When we say $25 for a furster overcoat, we don't mean the kind any tailor in Janesville will put up for $25. We mean one that is cut by Browning, King & Co., and with the same style and elegance that the best tailors in Chicago and New York produce at $40 to $50. This is no dream, boys. You had better look us up for your fine garments. Zeigler.

Talks of Nicaragua Canal.

London, Oct. 28.—The Times has a three-column article on the Nicaraguan Canal from a correspondent lately there, who says it is clear the project cannot be carried through as a private undertaking, but it must be under the auspices of some strong government, which, without doubt, must be the United States. He is convinced the cost will be nearer £30,000,000 than £29,000,000. It is useless to suppose, he adds, that the Gulf States of Central America will be able to supply the necessary labor.

Fire in Ohio Oil District.

Toledo, O., Oct. 28.—A terrible fire has been raging in the oil district south of here ever since Friday night. It caught in the edge of the little town of Mungen and burned over a strip about two miles long and a mile wide. The fire was right in the very heart of the best paying oil territory of the state, and while it is impossible to give a really conservative estimate of the loss at the present time, it will run well up into six figures.

Will Celebrate Debs' Release.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 28.—At a meeting yesterday of the Birmingham Trades Council, whose membership comprises all the labor organizations in this district, representing 12,000 men, Nov. 22 was set apart as a day for celebration of the release of Eugene V. Debs from jail in Illinois. On that day a big demonstration will be given in this city, including a parade with all the laboring men in the district in line, and speeches by noted labor leaders.

Oklahoma Prairies Ablaze.

Perry, O. T., Oct. 28.—A destructive prairie fire raged five hours yesterday east of here. Many thousands of bushels of corn and many tons of hay and vast fields of Kaffir corn were destroyed. A number of farm houses are reported consumed, and it is also reported that two Indian children were fatally burned. Many people had narrow escapes. The wind was very high and hundreds of whites and Indians turned out to fight the fire.

CON O'LEARY, "PUG" IS NOW IN JAIL

NOTED PRIZEFIGHTER LOCKED IN A CELL.

He Looked Upon the Rosy Hued Whiskey That Killeth at Forty Rods and Was Bested in a Very Short Go—John Ennis Charges Conspiracy.

"Con" O'Leary, the well known prize fighter, is confined in the Rock County jail, and will stay there for five days. Mr. O'Leary, who is evidently widely known as a pugilist, came to Janesville Saturday night and became intoxicated. Finally Chief of Police Acheson met him and O'Leary was soon in jail. This morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and Judge Phelps fined him a dollar and costs. Mr. O'Leary preferred the jail to parting with his wealth and that's the reason he is the guest of the sheriff. He had a pocket full of clippings from newspapers referring to his battles and general pugilistic ability in the ring.

Ennis Charges Conspiracy. According to the Superior papers, John F. Ennis lays his arrest to a conspiracy between his brother, Joe, and Chief of Police Lutton. He told a reporter for the Daily Leader that there was no case against him here.

"My people live down there and besides I have hosts of friends, so I have no fear of the results," he said.

"He and his brother, Joe Ennis, have had considerable trouble over some property in Itasca," The Leader continues. "John turned this over to his brother and took his promissory note for $535 in payment. It is over this business transaction that all the trouble has arisen, and the matter has been before the courts for some time. Joe Ennis was appointed receiver of the rents and profits of the premises a few days ago by Judge Smith.

"There was a large crowd assembled at the Omaha depot last night to see 'Jack' take his departure, and he greeted them generally with serene smiles and bade them good-bye.

Sneak Thieves Stole Blankets

Sneak thieves stole the blankets that Lester Austin of Johnstown, put on his horses when he hitched them near Dr. Roberts' office Saturday night. Mr. Austin was not gone from the team ten minutes, but when he returned, the blankets were gone. Chief Acheson is looking for the thieves.

John Larson, a sick man who came to town from North Dakota, was cared for by the police and Poormaster Kenyon Saturday night. He was very anxious to get to Chicago where he said he could get into a hospital, so the officers furnished him with a suit of clothing, and shelter for the night, beside a ticket to the World's Fair city.

William Campbell of Beloit was brought to jail today for fifteen days, for being drunk and disturbing the salvation army of that city.

Conrad of the company, was here this afternoon. Ada Holdredge-Ash is the prima donna of the company and her first appearance in opera before the people of her own home will be an event of much interest. "Said Pasha" will be the piece, and her part is that of "Serena."

Y.M.C.A. LIVES OR DIES AS THE PEOPLE WILL

FINAL EFFORT TO RAISE THE NEEDED CASH.

Failure Means Pretty Nearly the Collapse of the Association. So All Interested in Its Good Work, Should Put Their Shoulders to the Wheel and Lift.

Shall Janesville's Y. M. C. A. organization die on the very threshold of its life?

Or shall it live to do good to men? It is one or the other.

Which shall it be?

"We are making the final effort" said a member of the association who has been sacrificing his time, money and energy at the altar of the association since its organization, this morning.

"We live or die right here. If we do not raise the money to open the building during the campaign this week, it almost means the collapse of the association. Some who have subscribed cannot pay, others will not pay, and all of this time the necessary expenses go right on. It costs us from $100 to $125 a month for a secretary and other necessary expenditures. It keeps us hustling to get subscriptions to take the place of those that remain unpaid, and in the meantime, the list continues to dwindle away. The $5,000 offer is not available until the building is paid for. We must pay for the building or throw up the sponge."

The Gazette does not believe the citizens want to see the association compelled to give up the fight. Those who do not should rally to the support of the workers and help the cause along. All of this week will be devoted to the work and the campaign was begun this morning. The new building will be open on Wednesday and Friday evenings. Go and look it through and then decide whether or not you think it ought to be turned into a tobacco warehouse.

All men whether members or not, are requested to meet at the new building on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock sharp, to take part in a parade of the business streets of the city.

The managers wish to make a good showing and desire the help of every man in the city who would see the association live.

Following are some of the works that the association will accomplish when it gets into working trim:

It will care for the body, the temple of the living God.

It will keep your sons out of the saloons.

It will strengthen the physical body.

It will educate the mind.

It will improve the morals.

It will build character.

KILL THE CHARTER WITH THEIR VOTES

COUNCIL WILL HEAR THE COMMITTEE REPORT.

This Does Not Effect the Amendments That Have Already Been Adopted—Water Company's Statement May Come up Tonight—Routine Work Will Be Done.

The committee appointed to investigate the feasibility of the adoption of the uniform charter as a whole, will report to the council at the meeting tonight, and as a matter of course, the project will be voted down. But two votes are necessary to kill it, and the aldermanic members of the committee put their stamp of disapproval on the measure when they voted against it in the committee. This report does not affect in any way the portions of the new charter which have already been adopted by the city. They are held to be an excellent substitute for the old regulations that they replace.

Just what other business will come before the council is not known. The last statement filed by the water company is in the hands of the city clerk, but whether anything will be done about it is not stated. Considerable business which should have been attended to at the meeting which adjourned for want of a quorum will also be brought up, but is mostly of a routine nature.

RANSOM WORKED HARRITY.

Story Which Illustrates the Minister's Diplomatic Abilities.

During the presidential campaign of 1892 Mr. Ransom undertook a task for which his genius peculiarly fitted him. The politicians of North Carolina conceived the brilliant notion that they would be better treated if the old north state could be hypnotized into the doubtful column. Georgia had been called the New England of the South, and why should not North Carolina be the Indiana of that section?

So original in design and so bold in execution was this plan that Chairman Simmons had little trouble in setting in motion the idea that the tar heelers were liable to choose either Harrison or Weaver electors. The knowing ones in the democratic camp all whispered, "We're going to lose No' Carolina," and when the idea had been well planted, watered and nurtured, Ransom was sent to New York city to gather the harvest. His mission was to finance the doubtful state idea!

Among the successful pieces of political strategy, Ransom's achievements will long be remembered. Chairman Harrity is a shrewd man. The Chester-Seldan statesman nearly broke down when he told Mr. Harrity that his people were "very poo," and that nothing but a generous slice of the national committee's funds, in 1892 well known to be ample, would avert a catastrophe by all democrats alike feared and dreaded. "Very poo," very poo," was the watchword, and to the blind fascination of the phrase Mr. Harrity yielded, and so small sum went to a state that was from the first as solid as though its only rent had been mended with liquid glue.

When the election returns came in Mr. Cleveland led Mr. Harrison by 32,000 votes, and Mr. Weaver by 88,000, which, according to population, made North Carolina less of a doubtful state to the democrats than Pennsylvania had been in the same election to the republicans. But the tidal wave of '94 came along, and took North Carolina in among the rest in such a way as to restore confidence in the doubtful-state idea, and to put a quietus upon a good deal of the fun that in inside circles was being made of North Carolina's frantic aspirations for social recognition in that exclusive set of states which, during presidential campaigns, constitute a genuine political "four hundred."—Boston Transcript.

THE FIRST BICYCLE RIDER.

He Hails from Chicago and Makes This Claim.

"I rode the first bicycle in America. If any other man claims to have done so, I would like to hear from him, but I don't believe there is such a man." So says Mr. John William Tyler, of 31 East Monroe street. The pioneer of the millions who now flit on wheels all over this broad continent is a middle-aged man, well built, with dark hair and eyes. In early life Mr. Tyler was a gymnast. He is now a jeweler. During his apprenticeship as a jeweler he was a reader of the Scientific American, in which magazine he one day came across a paragraph which interested him very much. It dealt with the improvements made to the bicycle, or velocipede, as it was then called, by the brothers Hanlon, who were surprising Paris by their exploits on the new machine.

At this time the riding of a bicycle was considered rather as a gymnastic exercise, to be undertaken only by the very skillful. Thus it appeared to Mr. Tyler, and he at once ordered a velocipede from the advertised manufacturer—namely, Calvin Witty, of 638 Broadway, New York, who had purchased the patent from the Hanlons. Said Mr. Tyler:

"After having waited about three months the velocipede came at last. It came c. o. d., with a bill for $60 and a letter from the manufacturers stating I had given them their first order and the cause of the long delay was their not being ready to manufacture. From the illustration of the machine I thought it would cost only $10 or $15, and I was not ready to pay $60. A friend, however, came to my relief and paid the bill, telling me that I could give exhibitions on the machine and in that way soon be able to pay him back, which I did, there being plenty of people then in America willing to pay for the privilege of seeing a man ride a velocipede. I hired an inclosed arena and people paid to come in and see me ride, and that fall I established a velocipede school in Wilkesbarre. My wheel attracted much interest, became so popular, in fact, that articles in reference to it appeared in a great many newspapers."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

He Wasn't in It.

Prompted by the feeling that it was his duty, the bishop remonstrated with one of his clergy for attending a local hunt. "Well, your lordship," replied the offender, "I really do not see there is any more harm in hunting than going to a ball." "I presume," answered his lordship, "that you refer to having seen my name down among those who attended Lady Somerville's ball, but I assure you throughout the whole evening I was never once in the same room as the dancers." "That, my lord, is exactly how I stand—I was in the same field as the hounds." Then the bishop sat down and silence reigned.

What He Wondered.

"You seem thoughtful, Henry," said Mr. Meekton's better half. "Yes, an idea just struck me." "What was it?" "I was wondering whether by next season the new woman will be gentlemanly enough to take her hat off in the theater."—Washington Star.

WHEN JEWS HAD THREE EYES.

A Strange Tradition Held by Hebrews Living in the Orient.

The Jews of eastern Palestine and Asia Minor have a queer tradition which has survived from ancient times and tells of a remote period in their history when every fully developed Israelite was equipped with three perfect eyes. The two main optics, according to this curious old-time legend, were situated in the front part of the head, just as Jewish and other eyes are to-day, but the third—the one that made the early patriarch a monstrosity—was located in the back of the head, just above the nape of the neck in the edge of the hair. This wonderful third eye in man was not "evolved" out of existence, as useless organs generally are (according to the ideas of the progressive scientists), but was closed by the divine injunction on the day when Moses was given the tables of stone on Sinai. You remember that God's command on the day that the tables were renewed was to the effect that no man should be seen in the vicinity of the holy mount. (See Exodus xxxiv., 3).

The believers in the three-eye tradition says that Moses supplemented God's command by ordering the faithful who were encamped in the valley to turn their heads from the mountain. This they did, but took good care to uncover the eye that was situated in the back of their head. Moses, noticing this show of duplicity on the part of his followers, asked God to close the third or rear eye, and since that day the Israelites, in common with the remainder of humanity, have been forced to depend on two eyes only.

ON THE OTHER SIDE.

We go our ways in life too much alone,
We hold ourselves too far from all our kind,
Too often we are dead to sigh and moan,
Too often to the weak and helpless blind,
Too often where distress and want abide
We turn and pass upon the other side.

The other side is trodden smooth and worn
By footsteps passing idly all the day,
Where lie the bruised ones that faint and mourn
Is seldom more than an untrodden way.
Our selfish hearts are for our feet the guide—
They lead us by upon the other side.

It should be ours the oil and wine to pour
Into the bleeding wounds of stricken ones,
To take the smitten and the sick and sore
And bear them where a stream of blessing runs.

Instead we look about—the way is wide—
And so we pass upon the other side.

O friends and brothers, gliding down the years,
Humanity is calling each and all
In tender accents, born of grief and tears!
I pray you, listen to the thrilling call!
You cannot, in your cold and selfish pride,
Pass guiltlessly upon the other side.

THE LOST EARRINGS.

It was in the palmiest days of the second empire. It was an evening in midwinter. The Paris season was at its height and a brilliant audience had assembled at the Theatre Francaise to witness the performance of Jules Sandeau's delightful play, "Mademoiselle de la Seigliere."

The empress was present, graceful and beautiful, the emperor at her side, wrapped in his favorite air of gloomy abstraction, which, like Lord Burleigh's celebrated nod, was supposed to mean so much, yet which, viewed by the impartial light of subsequent veracious history, seems to have signified so little. Several officers in glittering uniforms were in attendance, sparkling with decorations showered upon them by a grateful sovereign, and among these gallant warriors, conspicuous by reason of his attire, was a solitary, humble, black coated civilian, in ordinary evening dress, with the inevitable speck of red at his buttonhole.

In a box almost immediately opposite that occupied by their imperial majesties was a young and exceedingly handsome Russian lady, Countess Ivanoff, concerning whose manifold graces and fascinations the great world of Paris elected to interest itself considerably at this period.

The beauty and the wit of this fair northern enchantress were the theme of every masculine tongue and her magnificent diamonds the envy and admiration of all feminine beholders. The countess was accompanied by her husband, a man of distinguished appearance.

The curtain fell after the first act. The emperor and empress withdrew during the entr'acte. Many humbler mortals followed their example, among them Count Ivanoff, apparently in no wise disturbed by the fact that the golden youth in the stalls were bringing a small battery of opera glasses to bear upon the dazzling charms of his beautiful wife.

The countess leaned back in her luxurious fauteuil, fanning herself, serenely indifferent to the interest she was exciting. In the dim light of her curtain shaded box the glitter of her splendid diamonds seemed to form a sort of luminous halo round her graceful head, a myriad starry brilliants gleamed among the masses of her gold brown hair, and two priceless stones flashed and twinkled like twin planets in her little shell tinted ears.

The count had been gone but a few minutes, when there was a gentle knock at the door, and in answer to the countess' "Entrez" the cuvreuse appeared and said deferentially:

"Pardon, Mme. la Comtesse, a gentleman charged with a message from her majesty the empress waits in the corridor and desires to know if madam will have the goodness to receive him."

"Certainly! Enter, I beg of you, monsieur," replied the countess as she recognized the distinguished looking civilian she had already noticed in close proximity to the emperor in the imperial box.

The visitor advanced a few steps, and, still standing in deep shadow, said, with grave dignity:

"I trust my intrusion may be pardoned. I am desired by her majesty to ask a favor of Mme. la Comtesse, and, at the same time, to beg that she will have the goodness to excuse a somewhat unusual request."

"The obligation will be mine if I can fulfill even the least of her majesty's wishes," answered the countess.

"The case is this," explained the gentleman. "An argument has arisen concerning the size of the diamonds in your earrings and those of the Countess Woronzoff. The empress begs that you will intrust one of your pendants to her care for a few moments, as the only satisfactory method of disposing of the vexed question. I will myself return it the instant her majesty gives it back into my keeping."

"With the greatest pleasure," agreed the countess, detaching the precious jewel forthwith and depositing it, without misgiving, in the outstretched palm of the imperial messenger. The countess bestowed a smile and gracious bow of dismissal upon her majesty's distinguished ambassador, who responded by a profoundly respectful inclination as he made his exit.

Shortly afterward Count Ivanoff returned. "I have been talking to Dumont," he remarked, as he seated himself. "Clever fellow, Dumont. I am not surprised at the emperor's partiality for him. He must find him useful when he is in want of an idea."

"Who is Dumont?" inquired the countess, with languid interest.

"That is rather a difficult question," replied the count, smiling. "There are several editions of his biography—all different, probably none of them true. Look, he has just entered the emperor's box—the man in the black coat."

earrings, which her majesty wished to compare with one of the Countess Woronzoff's."

"Dumont! Impossible! I was talking to him the whole time I was absent, and he only left me at the top of the staircase two seconds before I returned."

"Nevertheless, mon ami, he has been here and has taken my earrings. See! It is gone."

"Effectively," agreed the count, with a grim smile, "but Dumont has not taken it. It is to the last degree unlikely that the empress would make such a request. Depend upon it, you have been the victim of a thief made up as Dumont."

"Impossible!" cried the countess in her turn. "The affair is absolutely as I tell you. It was the veritable M. Dumont I see opposite who came into this box and took away my diamond. Only wait a little and he will bring it back intact."

"To wait a little is to lessen the chance of its recovery. I will go and inquire of Dumont, if I can get at him, whether he has been seized with a sudden attack of kleptomania, because the idea of the empress having sent him roaming about the theater borrowing a lady's jewels I regard as preposterous. Ah, these Persian thieves! You do not know what scientific geniuses they are in their way."

With this the count departed, and the second act was nearly at an end before he returned. In the meantime the countess perceived that she was an object of interest to the occupants of the imperial box.

"I was right," whispered the count, re-entering and bending over his wife's chair. "Dumont knows nothing of your earring, and, needless to say, the empress never sent him or anyone else upon such an errand. I have put the matter into the hands of the police, and they will do all that is possible to recover it."

The countess was duly commiserated by sympathizing friends, but nothing more was heard of the stolen jewel until the following day.

Early in the afternoon the countess was about to start for her daily drive in the Bois. The frozen snow lay deep upon the ground, and her sleigh, with its two jet black Russian horses jingling their bells merrily in the frosty air, stood waiting in the courtyard while the countess donned her furs.

A servant entering announced that an officer of the police in plain clothes asked permission to speak with Mme. la Comtesse concerning the lost diamond.

"Certainly," said madame graciously. "Let the officer be shown into the boudoir."

Into the boudoir presently came the countess, stately, beautiful, fur clad, buttoning her little gloves. Near the door stood a short, wiry looking man, with keen, black eyes, closely cropped hair and compact, erect, military figure. The small man bowed profoundly while he said, with the utmost respect, at the same time laying a letter upon the table:

"I am sent by order of the chief of police to inform Mme. la Comtesse that the stolen diamond has been satisfactorily traced, but there is unfortunately some little difficulty connected with its identification. I am charged, therefore, to beg that Mme. la Comtesse will have the goodness to intrust the fellow earring to the police for a short period in order that it may be compared with the one found in the possession of the suspected thief. Madame will find that the letter I bring corroborates my statement."

The countess glanced hastily through the letter, and, ringing the bell, desired that her maid might be told to bring the remaining earring immediately. This was done, and the dapper little man, bowing deferentially, departed with the precious duplicate safely in his possession.

The countess descended to her sleigh and drove to the club, to call for her husband en route for the Bois. Crossing the Place de la Concorde, she related to him the latest incident in the story of the diamond earring.

"You never were induced to give up the other!" cried Count Ivanoff incredulously.

"But I tell you, mon ami, an officer of the police came himself to fetch it, bringing a letter from his superiors vouching for the truth of his statement."

"If the prefect himself had come, I don't think I should have been cajoled into letting him have it after last night's experience," laughed her husband.

"However, for the second time of asking, we will go and inquire."

The coachman turned and drove, as directed, to the bureau of police at which the count had lodged his complaint the night before. After a somewhat protracted delay, the count rejoined his wife with a look of amusement upon his handsome bearded face.

"The police know nothing of your detective or his epistolary efforts," he said, drawing the fur rug up to his chin as the impatient horses sped away over the frozen snow. "Your second earring has been netted by another member of the light fingered fraternity, and, upon my honor, I think he was the more accomplished artist of the two!"

And from that unlucky day to this, the Countess Ivanoff's celebrated diamond earrings knew her pretty ears no more.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Food of the Future.

Dr. George Plumb, one of the chemists of the University of Chicago, says that the time is soon coming when hot water and food tablets will be the sole accompaniments of a kitchen. He says the essential food elements of a 1,200 pound steer can be got into an ordinary pill-box. One of his tablets the size of a pea makes a large bowl of soup. A ration case of his planning, which weighed eight ounces, contained the following supply: Three tablets concentrated soups, equal to three quarts; four tablets beef, equal to six pounds; one tablet milk, equal to one pint; two tablets wheaten grits, equal to two pounds; one tablet egg food, equal to 12 eggs.

An Awful Ordeal.

"I have come this evening, Miss Mildred," began the youth, fingering his hat nervously and clearing his throat "to ask you—that is—"

He cleared his throat again, swallowed a lump that seemed to go down hard, and resumed:

"I came this evening to—tell you, Miss Mildred, that—h'm—that whether I—h'm—ever come again or not will depend on your reply to what I—to what I came to say this evening."

"Why, Mr. Spoonamore," said the young lady, "what can you mean?"

"I mean, Miss Billiwink—Miss Mildred—that the time has come when I can no longer—h'm—can no longer pretend to hide from myself the knowledge that I—h'm—have become too deeply interested in you to endure the thought that some other man—h'm—ahem—some other man may win the prize on which I have set my heart."

His voice was growing more husky, but he went on:

"I feel that I am laboring under a disadvantage, Miss Mildred, and yet—h'm—if you knew the strength of the—h'm—of the feeling that moves me—that compels me, I might say, to run the risk of—h'm—of seeming to be in too big a hurry, you would understand why I have come to say—h'm—to say what I have come to say this evening. H'm."

"Don't you think, Mr. Spoonamore—" "Miss Mildred, a man in my condition doesn't think! He can't think. He can only—h'm—he can only feel. That is—h'm—what ails me. If you would—would only—h'm—help me out—"

Nay, it very often happens that prudence, which has always in it a great mixture of caution, hinders a man from being so fortunate as he might possibly have been without it.—Addison.

A BOSTON GIRL'S LIFE

Saved from Ruin and Despair by the Timely Aid of a Noted Woman.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

There anything more truly pathetic than the cry for help that springs from the anguished heart of a young girl—a beautiful girl who sees ahead only suffering and uncertainty? But oh, what joy and gladness her young heart pours forth when she realizes that her dreaded enemy, the blasting influence, is gone—banished forever.

This sunshine and joy is now the happy portion of Miss Florence of Beacon Street, Boston.

She often tells of her suffering from the suppression of the menses. The pain was excruciating. The doctors, instead of removing the cause of her ailment, piled her each month with morphia to prevent convulsions; but the trouble was permitted to exist.

When she could endure no more, prostration was imminent and future hopeless,—her family procured a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, surprising to all, rapidly and permanently cured her.

In writing to Mrs. Pinkham, pouring forth her gratitude and happiness, she says: "Oh! that I could make every suffering woman try your valuable medicine! How they would bless you!"
